Will there be a circulation cap on magazines (e.g., each issue can only circulate up to X number of times)?

No. There will not be circulation caps on any magazine titles.

Can users renew magazines?

Yes. Users will have the option to renew a magazine within three days of the end of the lending period. Since magazines are offered under simultaneous use, customers may borrow the magazine again at any time. The lending period for magazines is 21 days.

Will magazines count against a user's OverDrive checkout limits?

No. Magazines will not count toward checkout limits.

Will OverDrive have a magazine reader similar to RBdigital?

The Libby app will offer an article and thumbnail view for magazine titles. The article view will not be available on the OverDrive app and website. At launch, Libby will not have text to speech functionality for magazines. It is being considered for future development.
